

MONEY BILLS FAIL TO PASS CONGRESS

Unexpected Opposition and Obstruction by Democrats Delay Enactment of Measures.

NAVY FUNDS AUTHORIZED

Is Only Measure to Gain Favorable Consideration—Debate Is Spirited in Lower House.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Congress failed today to act on the remaining appropriation bills before adjournment and to refer until next Monday.

Unexpected house opposition to the conference agreement on the $156,000,000 army appropriation bill and obstruction by house democrats to other measures forced adjournment of both the senate and house until tomorrow after the senate had debated most of the day in debate on the league of nations.

With all the appropriation measures needed just to provide funds for many important items, leaders hoped to clear up all of the bills to-morrow and then adjourn until July 7 when President Wilson is expected to arrive with the German peace treaty.

Of the five money bills left over the naval appropriation measure carrying $161,000,000 and providing a naval personnel of 176,000 men was the only one completed today. Conference agreements were reached on all others, including settlement of the sundry civil bill from $75,000,000 to $65,000,000.

The house worked on conference reports all day, with several hours of spirited debate on the army measure which was returned to conference with its representatives instructed to insist that the amount proposed for the air force be limited to $100,000. The house conference previously had agreed to compromise the senate's $65,000,000 appropriation for that purpose at $40,000,000.

The senate planned a night session to carry through the supply bills, but the handful of senators who returned at 10 o'clock agreed to adjourn until noon of the blockade in the house, where democratic objection to consideration of the sundry civil and the District of Columbia conference reports forced postponement of final action until tomorrow.

Two important bills, the $26,000,000 agricultural appropriation measure, carrying the rider repealing the daylight saving law October 26, and that ending general control of wheat, expected to be voted on July 31, were sent today to the white house.

HOUSE BILL ALLOWS HALF OF 1 PER CENT

WHAT TOXIC EFFECT IN INTOXICATION? These are questions of fact and it has not yet been answered within the province of congress. An equal quantity of the same liquor may make one person dead drunk and but slightly affect another.

"As some contend, there may be persons who have become so tolerant of alcohol that they cannot get drunk on beer containing 3.4 per cent of alcohol by weight, while by the way, contains only one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol less than the ordinary beer. But, there are not legislating for a special class." This amendment was intended to apply generally and to prevent the sale of any liquor that will make anybody drunk. It is not only intoxication that this amendment seeks to prohibit, but the needless waste as well of the uncounted millions in money that should go to provide luxuries, comforts and conveniences in the home."

STOP MANUFACTURE. The general enforcement bill as reported out by the committee last Friday, was split into three parts, each separate and distinct with the war-time section after part one. The report of the committee on the bill as made today explained that the war-time act itself provided no machinery for its enforcement, merely prescribing a penalty for the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages.

Eminent Mr. Diggs Says He is "Constitutionally Agin" This Tax Paying Business

John H. Woodard, speaking for Republicans at the better water main meeting held by the West Tulsa business association at Marion Underwriting offices in West Tulsa, says might completely answer all arguments advanced by J. H. Diggs, speaking against the water main bill, and placed the water question under the public. Woodard claims that by voting for $1,000,000 he means the people of Tulsa are voting for a water system at $12,000,000 in the long run. He claims that one of the time of Roosevelt would end in its entirety.

Woodard favored the Park Commission and opposed the policy of voting in by popular vote to determine the future of the water system, but claims that the people of Tulsa are voting for a water system at $12,000,000 in the long run.

The talk about the water issue being a rock music proposition is all foolish, says Woodard. "The fact that water just the water, as such, is entitled to as much credit as the proposition that the man with a large income can shift the burden to the poor man by paying less taxes is an absolute fallacy."

As long as it is raining, it does not matter whether it goes to the state or to the federal government, says Woodard, as paying the share and the same as a man with resources.

Typical Diggs' Logic. We have been told by the opinion of Spokane that Congress passed the cost of putting through the proposed $14,000,000 water bill, and that it was voted down because it was $1,000,000 with interest on top of the extra $12,000,000 which puts it at $13,000,000. Any man with common sense knows that if those funds are not needed and are not used, there will be no interest, so paid on them, as no man can hold so much interest in his own interest," he said.

Diggs' logic is that someone would raise the question of whether the amount would be enough and the extra $1,000,000 was added to cover all emergencies, without affecting the public at all, if they are not needed.

Woodard claims that someone would raise the question of whether the amount would be enough and the extra $1,000,000 was added to cover all emergencies, without affecting the public at all, if they are not needed.

SPONSOR LEAGUE

2-27 TAX likely to come from an uncontrollable situation in Europe.

Desiring patriotic consideration of the League proposal, Mr. Gerry said, "many prominent republicans in my state have expressed the hope that I might be able to lend my support to the adoption of this convention."

Mr. Fall, a member of the foreign relations committee, described the proposal with Germany as "not a treaty of peace, but a treaty of alliance," and asserted he could not vote to ratify it without violating his oath of office.

At the conclusion of Senator Fall's address, Senator Borah, the republican, said that the proposed petition signed by a number of prominent York republicans in favor of the League's proposal, including ratification of the treaty, including the League covenant.

"That petition," he said, "was written and formulated at No. 49, Wall street, and the men who wrote it and most of the men who signed it were bankers or their attorneys."

The senator declared that the proposal, which he said had been sent to agents of the League urging that telegrams and representations be made to Washington to aid in influencing senatorial opinion, Senator Borah said.

"Yet these people are determined that there shall be no popular vote upon the proposal while they are going for the purpose of having certain influential gentlemen come here to talk with senators and create a false impression."

A Million Babies—and One Pair of Pink Cheeks

WHEN my doctor told me to give my baby Nestle's Food because I couldn't nurse him, I said, "How many babies have brought up on it?"

He smiled. "Right here in the United States" he said, "at this minute there are many thousands of babies keeping well and strong on Nestle's. All over the world in the same way—and that will give you some idea of how many babies have kept well on Nestle's Food during the past ten years."

And yet it wasn't all those millions of babies that convinced me. It was the pink cheeks of my own baby.

Nestle's Milk Food is made out of pure milk, which has been added just the right amount of cereal and of pure sugar. This is made into a white flour powder, which makes the solids of the milk easy to digest. You just add cold water, boil and Nestle's expert cook powerfully preserves the natural flavor and taste of the milk, so that you can eat it just like a meal.
